Library Adds Activities to downtown Vintage Marketplace

The Kendallville Public Library is adding lots of activities to the Vintage Marketplace at Main Street Village, planned for Saturday, October 6 from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. The event takes place in downtown Kendallville during the Apple Festival.

The library will be providing a number of projects and fun activities for a variety of ages. Here’s a quick look at what you’ll find from KPL:

- Make & Take: Sock pumpkin project (while supplies last)
- Outdoor Games: Stop and play a few with your family!
- Design Your Climb Points: This activity is worth two points on the Experience the Heart of Kendallville Fall 2018 Challenge. We can help you get started with Design Your Climb, or help log your points!
- Visiting Fairy: We’ve invited a special fairy to visit the Vintage Marketplace. Find her home and hear the story of why Primrose Rambleton is so happy to visit Kendallville for this event!
- Rambling Rocks Scavenger Hunt: We've specially designed 25 Rambling Rocks that will be hidden around the Vintage Marketplace. Find one and exchange it for a FREE kids' cone from Blue Heron.

All these activities take place only on Saturday, October 6 in downtown Kendallville.

Upcoming Make & Take Projects (All are FREE):

Both locations: Kendallville Public Library and its Limberlost Branch

- Monday, October 1 through Saturday, October 13 - Pumkin' Junkin'
- Monday, October 15 through Saturday, October 27 - Rock Photo Holders
- Monday, October 29 through Saturday, November 10 - Simple Sew Keychains
- Monday, November 12 through Saturday, November 24 - Mixed Media Animals
Hear from the Harry Moon series co-creator, Thom Black, in the latest Cataloged Conversations podcast. He joined us in September when he came to Kendallville to visit elementary students throughout East Noble. He talks about the series, how quickly the books are published (you might be surprised), and why being “authentic” is important to him. Our next podcast will be about how the items in our collection are selected and prepped for check out. Get it automatically when you subscribe to Cataloged Conversations through iTunes or your favorite podcast app!

Category Adopted by...YOU!

You know how in many places you can “Adopt a Highway?” You can do something similar at the Kendallville Public Library, without worrying about weather and traffic!

KPL is starting an Adopt a Category program in the Adult, Teen and Children’s sections of the main library and its branch in Rome City. To adopt a category for yourself, simply stop in and complete a request form, or fill out the form online at www.kendallvillelibrary.org. We’ll give you the first category of your choice that’s available, and you can even take on more than one if you’d like.

Adoption means that you will stop in periodically to straighten the items and make sure they are in the proper order. A staff member will train you at the beginning, so you’ll know just how it’s done. This is vital to the usability of the library, and we would appreciate the help!

You’ll also have the option to make a monetary donation to your category, to help develop the collection.

Donate...without spending an extra dollar

If you shop at Kroger or Owen’s, you can use your Kroger Plus Card to donate to the Kendallville Public Library.

The library is a member of Kroger Community Rewards. If you have a Kroger Plus Card, you can simply go online to www.kroger.com/communityrewards, and sign in or create an account. Then you will be able to link your Plus Card to the Kendallville Public Library (can be searched by name or found by entering code QC028).

Each time you then use your Kroger Plus Card at one of the Kroger family of stores, the Kendallville Public Library will receive a quarterly donation, based on your spending.

It’s easy to participate, and the Kendallville Public Library will use the funds collected to enhance programming and services for all ages. Need assistance linking your Kroger Plus Card? Stop by the Kendallville Public Library or its Limberlost Branch and we will be happy to assist you.

A painting workshop for adults, teens and children in kindergarten and up (accompanied by an adult).

Due to the nature of this program, only children in kindergarten and up will be allowed to attend, even if they are not participating in the activity.

Registration is required at the Customer Service Desk or by calling 343-2010.

Don’t forget to check out all our KPL Challenges and our Experience the Heart of Kendallville (EHK) Challenges, too! We have a temporary challenge with EHK challenge that runs through October - earn those points while you can, and log your activities before November 1. The library will hold a random drawing on that date for a $50 Kendallville Chamber of Commerce Gift Check. Everyone with 10+ points is eligible to win.

Get started with Design Your Climb on our website at www.kendallvillelibrary.org or through our mobile app.

The Kendallville Day Care Center (KDCC) is the latest community organization to team up with the Kendallville Public Library for a Design Your Climb Challenge!

Register for Design Your Climb online (if you haven’t already), and on your activity log, check off each activity you complete to earn up to two points for each one! KDCC’s early learning activities include visiting a local park, going on a grocery scavenger hunt, creating an environmental book and viewing the Brighter Futures website.

Say Zoop!
By Henre Tullet

Take readers on an interactive journey of color, sounds, and imagination. From the author of Press Here! and Mix it Up! comes the irresistible Say Zoop!

Start with a finger on the blue dot if you really want to play, and end with a rainbow of dots traveling around the pages in fun shapes making silly sounds! Not only is this book a great exercise in listening, but it is a fabulous invitation to encourage readers to see the colors and shapes around them and tell a story with them.

Curriculum Connections:
• Making sounds
• Following directions
• Story sequencing
• Imaginative thinking
• Color and shape recognition

Experiments with Heating and Cooling
By Isabel Thomas

A fabulous book in the engaging Read and Experiment series, Experiments with Heating and Cooling will have children exploring the world as scientists. Each book starts out with an explanation of why we experiment. Children learn that in order to answer questions and solve problems, scientists carefully plan experiments. Then, they use all of their senses to observe results and work out what those results mean.

The book gives step-by-step detailed instructions with illustrations for children to try four different experiments. At the end of the experiment, conclusions and explanations are made, and a connection to the next experiment is introduced. When children finish the four experiments in the book, they are encouraged to plan their next experiment by posing a question they want to answer like, “Does a material weigh the same after it changes state?” A glossary, related books, and a Fact Hound web search code is also included to expand understanding and continue exploration.

Curriculum Connections:
• Scientific inquiry
• Physical science- states of matter

The Bob’s Burgers Burger Book: Real Recipes for Joke Burgers
By Loren Bouchard

Have you ever watched the show Bob’s Burgers and wondered how the burger of the day would taste? If you answered yes to this question then this is the book for you! This cookbook includes recipes for over 40 different Bob’s Burgers burgers.

Some of these are the Eggers Can’t Be Cheesers Burger which includes eggs and American cheese on a burger sandwiched between an English muffin. Or maybe you are a heat seeker and want to try the Poblano Picasso Burger which fittingly includes poblano peppers as well as tomatillos and jalapenos. If you’re in the mood for a Mexican inspired burger try the Mission a-corn-plished Burger which is topped with corn, queso fresco, and arugula.

If you do happen to check out this title and make one of these burgers don’t forget to tag us on social media! Fans of the show Bob’s Burgers will not want to pass up on the chance to cook one of these punny burgers.

Runaways Vol. 1: Find Your Way Home
By Rainbow Rowell and Kris Anka

The original cast of the Runaways comic book series is back! If you were a fan of the first series you will not want to miss this installment. This volume starts off with a bang as Chase materializes in Nico’s home holding an unconscious Gert. Gert’s been stabbed through her abdomen and is near death. Using the Staff of One Nico utters every spell she can think of to save her dying friend.

Will Nico be able to use her magical abilities to rescue her friend? And didn’t Gert already die at the hands of a deranged time traveler? How and why did Gert return? To reveal the answers to these questions you will have to read this book.

Readers of the original Runaways series will want to give this book a read.
